Politics make strange bedfellows.

A town is like a girl, its wonderful what a little fixing up will do for her.

We have several men in this town who put 'sit' in city. It takes several to do it.

You have to be a citizen in order to vote, but you have to do a good deal more than vote to be a citizen.

FOR SALE: Two 1913 Harley-Davidson Motorcycles, in first class condition. Apply at this office.

Everything is getting higher except my opinion of you and your opinion of me and the neighbor's opinion of both of us.

It was rather amusing last Monday to hear the friends of Bosworth, McClesney and Morrow compliment the speech of McDermott. What did it mean except to draw strength from Stanley.

Editors as a rule are kind hearted and liberal. An exchange tells of a subscriber who died and left a fourteen years subscription unpaid. The editor appeared as the lid of the coffin was screwed down and put in a linen duster, a thermometer, a palm leaf fan and a receipt for making ice.

On the back page of this issue appears an article by W. P. Marsh of Lawrenceburg who has been here several days advocating equal suffrage and arranging for Miss Laura Clay to speak here. Miss Clay is one of the most prominent advocates of equal suffrage in America, a forceful and interesting speaker, and a good crowd should here her speak at Romans Opera House Saturday afternoon.

Sixty roads, totalling 500 miles in length, are being improved under State aid at the present time, or the plans have been approved ready for the letting of the contracts. Bourbon county has completed State aid work on the Maysville pike, the second to be finished in the State. Woodford county's Midway pike was the first. Work began Monday on the Stafford pike in this county.

THIS WEEK'S FAIRS.

The following fairs will be held in Kentucky this week: Harrodsburg, July-four days. Winchester, July 28-four days. Bersa, July 29-three days.

GOOD FARM.

There is advertised in this issue of the Record the sale of the old Scott place near Buena Vista. This is one of the best farms in the State for stock or general farming.

OFF FOR HARRODSBURG.

A good delegation from this place is taking in the Harrodsburg fair this week, which began Tuesday and will close Friday. Great preparations have been made and a good fair is assured.

MIGHT WIN BOTH.

In printing the Perryville catalogue, through mistake it announces Matt Cohen for Railroad Commissioner instead of Commissioner of Agriculture. Matt is so darn popular he is liable to win both nominations.

EMMET PURYEAR SICK.

On account of illness, Hon. Emmet Puryear was unable to attend court here last Monday, but his friends took advantage of the situation and put in some good licks for him. At this writing we hear he is much better.

HEAVY EXPENSE.

The heavy rain that fell in this county two weeks ago did immense damage to the bridges throughout the county and it will prove quite an expense to repair them, while in some places they will have to be replaced entirely.

DULL COURT DAY.

Although the crowd was rather large for such a busy farm time, business was slow and dull. There were about fifty cattle on the market, mostly of the butcher type all of which sold from six to six and a half cents. The crowd was mostly engaged in politics and many a candidate hand ached by the time the day was over.

SMASHES WINDOW.

Early Sunday morning, Cash Humphrey nonchalantly threw a bottle through the plate glass window of Zimmer's restaurant. Cash was laboring under the delusion that he was sinking a German submarine, with the delusion probably caused by an over indulgence in malt spirits. He was promptly taken in tow by Uncle Dave Ross.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. Jas. P. Edwards of Prospect, will speak in the interest of his candidacy for Lieutenant Governor at Romans Opera House on Saturday the 31st at one thirty. He will also speak at Paint Lick at four o'clock and at Stanford at seven thirty on the same day. Mr. Edwards is a gifted and interesting speaker and a good attendance is assured.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Charley Hurt, of Paint Lick, aged 24 years was tried before county Judge Arnold last Saturday morning and adjudged insane by a jury of six men. He was committed to the asylum at Lexington.

CAPT. JACK HARDING DEAD.

Following an illness of Bright's disease, Capt. Jack Harding died at his home in Pleasureville last Saturday morning. He was a prominent farmer and stock breeder and a lawyer of ability, having served as attorney for the L and N railroad for the past thirty years. He was a brother of Hon. Robert Harding of Danville.

RESIGNS.

Mr. H. C. Hamilton who has had the local agency for the National Life Insurance Company for the past six years, resigned this agency last week to take effect August 1st. Mr. Hamilton is one of the best insurance men in the state and will probably accept the agency of another good company soon, several of which he has under consideration at this time.

RUNAWAY HORSE.

Last Friday afternoon a horse belonging to B. C. Ford and attached to his rural mail wagon, became frightened in the alley at the rear of the Post Office and bolted across the street and landed bottom side up in front of Seale's barber shop, after having completely demolished the large glass of the tinsorial office. No one was hurt and the horse escaped with only a slight cut on its head.

WHITE SOX WIN.

The Louisville White Sox, a fast colored ball team defeated the Lancaster Eclipse team in two well played games here on Monday and Tuesday. The Louisville team played well together and the Lancaster team did well to get as good short end score as they did. Both games were hitting contests, the pitchers being touched up lively at all times. The scores were 12-8 and 15-12.

HAGAN-ARNOLD.

Miss Ella Mae Hagan of this city, and Mr. Walter Arnold, of Bryantsville went to Danville on last Friday and were united in marriage at the home of Rev. H. C. Garrison, that gentleman officiating. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hagan while the groom is a prominent young farmer of Bryantsville. The Record joins with friends in wishing them a long life of success and happiness.

SEND IN THE NAMES.

Harry Ware is offering $3. worth of trade chips for any one that will suggest a name suitable for his new soft drink and luncheonette room which he has recently opened in the Romans Opera House building. This contest will close Saturday and the name will be announced by a committee at the Opera House next Saturday night. Send in three names to this office at once, as only one person is allowed to suggest three.

McDERMOTT SPEAKS.

Lieutenant Governor McDermott, spoke in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor at Roman's Opera House on Monday. Mr. McDermott spoke largely upon the issue of local option and State wide prohibition, contending that McClesney's Prohibition Campaign was being used merely as a vote catching scheme and contending that the County Unit Law should be given a fair trial and that the people of various localities should be allowed to regulate their own morals.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

The Teachers Institute for Garrard County teachers will be held in Lancaster for the week beginning Monday August 2nd. Thursday will be Trustees' and Mother's day, and patrons are especially urged to be present on that day. Hon. John B. McFerran, President of the Teachers' Organization of Kentucky is expected to speak as well as a number of other prominent educators.

Dr. E. C. McDougal of Richmond will be the instructor in charge of the Institute.

KY. IN THE FOREGROUND.

Kentucky leads all Southern States in its production of corn, tobacco, hogs, horses, milk cows, beef cattle, poultry, sheep and wool. It comes second in wheat, potatoes and hay. There are more registered Jersey cattle in Kentucky than in any other State in the Union. Value of farm property $800,000,000; seventy-five per cent of its population is rural; 250,000 farms average value per farm over $3,000, over 13,300,000 bearing fruit trees. Kentucky leads all Southern States but one in population (it leads all in white population). Kentucky has more people worth $5,000 or more than any State in the South; Kentucky has more people with annual incomes of $2,500 or over than any Southern State.

CLUB MEETING.

The Commercial Club meets tonight in the Police Court room. This is an important meeting and all members and others interested should be present.

Remember tonight at Romans Opera House, Thera Bara in, "A Fool There Was." Six excellent films.

INFORMATION WANTED.

All persons holding bonds against the City of Lancaster are asked to notify F. G. Hurt, City Clerk, as to the amount and date of maturity of these bonds.

BUNCH OF BOOSTERS.

Wednesday morning about nine o'clock the biggest bunch of boosters that ever struck this town, drove up in forty-four automobiles, one hundred and fifty strong, headed by a big brass band and Newt Bright, all of Henry county and boosting the nomination of Hon. Sid Douthitt for Railroad Commissioner. It was the best advertising stunt we have ever seen pulled off and speaks well for the Henry county man and his popularity. They will tour the entire district. Mr. John W. Walker, formerly of this county, was an enthusiastic leader, together with Hon. E. A. Gullion, editor of the Henry County Local. After a stay of one hour in the city they left for Harrodsburg, where they will attend the fair in a body. They were all gentlemen and live wires.

AN IMPORTANT OFFICE.

Judge John E. Newman of Bardonia, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner in this District, has made a very unique and systematic campaign. He has visited practically every town, village, and crossroads store in the District, and the voters have been deeply impressed with his demeanor, and his splendid qualifications to meet and discharge the duties of this important office. In addition to this personal visitation, he has written a letter to practically every voter in the District, setting out in a becoming and modest way, his qualifications for this office; and their is every reason to believe that when the polls close on Saturday the 7th day of August, he will show a handsome majority over both his opponents.

The people of the State have reason to congratulate themselves in his prospective victory, for it is quite certain that no man has ever held the office of Railroad Commissioner in this State, who possessed qualifications superior to those of Judge Newman.

$75.00 FINE.

The last two or three years have seen a remarkable impetus given to the movement of stocking the fields and streams of Kentucky with fish and game, says the Bowling Green Messenger. During the present year alone great quantities of ring-neck pheasants and Mexican quail have been put in the fields, and reports from various sections of the state say that the pheasants recently imported from England are hatching out their young and giving every indication that they will increase rapidly. The State Game and Fish Commission has announced that more quail and pheasants in large numbers will be imported in Kentucky and will be placed in various sections of the state. Whether Kentucky will again become noted for abounding in game and having streams full of fish will depend, however, on the part the citizens of Kentucky take in protecting our fish and game and seeing that the laws made for the protection of the birds and fish are rigidly enforced.

It is a fine of $75. to shoot one of the ring-neck pheasants and as quite a number have hatched out in Garrard recently it is well to bear this in mind. Mr. John Farra reports he has seen his pheasant hen with seventeen young.

PAINT LICK DEFEATS

LANCASTER.

In a well played but uninteresting game, Paint Lick defeated Lancaster by a score of 8 to 3. It was the visitors game all the way, and Lancaster was never in any danger of getting the lead. Hicks, the Lancaster pitcher, was hit at will by the Paint Lick players, while the home boys were unable to connect with Farris to any great extent.

THE DEMOCRATIC BALLOT

A LONG ONE.

The ballot to be voted for in the democratic primary contains the names of thirty eight candidates with a dozen offices to be voted for. This makes a very long and difficult ballot to vote. This office has printed a great many educational ballots, which will be distributed among the voters and those who care to do so in advance will have the opportunity to select from the list men whom they think best suited for the office. The vote is cast by placing a stencil mark on the square opposite the candidate's name the voter wishes to support and a separate stencil mark is required opposite each name to be voted for. Friends of the various candidates will doubtless be busy from now until the election instructing the people how to vote.

It is well watered and under good fencing, and also an ideal stock farm. Investigations showed that she had gotten hold of strychnine instead of "dope" which she was looking for.

TENNESSEE OFFICIAL WINS LONG FIGHT

J. W. Seaton of Linden, Clerk of the Circuit Court of the Twelfth Judicial District of Tennessee, was for years a sufferer from stomach troubles—in part a result of his confining work. He tried doctor after doctor. He tried medicines without end.

One day he took a dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. He wrote:

"Your medicine is the best in the world for a form of stomach trouble. I am glad to say that after taking the full treatment I feel that I am well."

"I had very severe pains in my stomach all the time. One bottle of your medicine did me ten times as much good as all the doctors' medicine that I took for two years. My family physician told me that I would never be any better—today I am well. I have gained twenty-five pounds."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

Reducing the High Cost of Living Is a Science.

FORM GOOD HABITS NOW.

By Eliminating Meat Housewives Have Discovered That the Problem Solves Itself and That Carnivorousness is Only a Bad Habit.

Many housewives find themselves compelled to exercise their littler latent ingenuity in regard to the use of other kinds of foods now that meat is so high in price. Perhaps the high price of meat will realize the women of this country to induce that, after all, vegetables are not a mere addendum to a roast of beef or mutton. They will likewise learn that life is supportable without an abnormal proportion of flesh diet. Until this lesson had been brought home by means of wounding that acutely sensitive nerve, the pocket, it was a worse than hopeless task to urge the majority of the public to make a free use of the excellent foods provided by the garden. As a nation we have become carnivorous of habit to an alarming extent, and the high price of meat may indeed prove a blessing in disguise.

To argue that meat should be dispensed with is, of course, absurd. Extremists in matters of diet are always dangerous, but there can be no doubt that persons eat too much meat in this country. It is equally certain that other wholesome foods are not appreciated in accordance with their merits. Apart from the fact that meat is very dear, it is a wise idea at this time of year to consider the advantages of the lighter forms of diet. Day by day the supply of vegetables will be on the increase, salad stuffs also are coming along in large quantities, while cereals are a cheap form of nourishment.

The habit of bacon for breakfast is not altogether wise. In warm weather a change is not only palatable but health giving. What could be more appetizing than tomatoes and eggs cooked in butter? A simple breakfast of ripe tomatoes—which can be cooked in many ways—with bread and butter is quite satisfying. Such fare, followed by stewed fruit and milk, constitutes a morning meal that is much more in keeping with the needs of the body than bacon in summer.

Most children are fond of bananas, and without hesitation that fruit can be recommended for their use. Apart from analyses, comparisons of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates contained in different foodstuffs, the mere fact that many inhabitants of the torrid zone subsist on bananas alone should be sufficient to prove the worth of the fruit. Fully ripe bananas with sugar and milk are highly beneficial to children.

Speaking generally, one meat meal daily should suffice. Even then there is no necessity to eat a large quantity of meat to the exclusion of other things. Those who take lunch at home can do very well on a salad that contains lettuce, tomato, onion and hard boiled egg. Followed by a little cheese and fruit the lunch suggested is ample for most persons.

There is every prospect of asparagus remaining cheap for some time, yet the probability is that thousands of housewives will not think of using it. This vegetable is not highly nutritious, but when taken with the orthodox melted butter it is sufficient for a mid-day meal or supper. Nowadays, when there are so many books of cookery, some of which are devoted solely to the treatment of vegetables and cereals, a hint should suffice to induce housewives to avail themselves of the cheaper kinds of diet. Bread and potatoes soon become uninteresting, but much can be done with spinach, which is now plentiful; cabbage, peas and beans. As yet the last two are not very cheap, but in a little while the prices will drop.

Cereals and dried haricot beans, lentils, macaroni, oatmeal, butter beans, etc.; should be utilized to the fullest extent in these days of general high prices. The vegetable which most nearly resembles meat in regard to nutritive substance is the mushroom. A few of these, in homely language, "go a long way."

Concentrated foods, such as raisins and currants, are highly nutritious, and the grape sugar they contain provides much energy. It is possible to learn from the habits of tramps, who, if they have but a few coppers to spare, will always buy dried fruit in preference to meat, and those men have graduated from the school of experience.

From the foregoing hints and with the aid of the countless books on the subject housewives may do much to reduce the cost of living by serving more vegetables and less meat.

ERECT FIGURE CORRECT.

The fashionable girl of 1915 appears on the scene with a beautiful, erect figure, a free swing to her walk and with clothing of sufficient width to permit her to be graceful in her carriage. The stooped shoulders, with head bent forward and slouching gait, once assumed by those who wanted to attain the extreme in styles, have entirely passed and, like an old fashioned dress of several seasons ago, will be discarded by those who care enough for fashion to change their manner of carrying themselves.

HENRY M. BOSWORTH

SURE TO WIN

In His Present Position As Auditor He Has Increased the Revenue of the State In Round Numbers $2,500,000

AND THE DEMOCRATS OF KENTUCKY WILL GIVE FAYETTE COUNTY MAN AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

Henry M. Bosworth Who By His Courageous Fight For the Interests of the People of the State, as Auditor of the State, Has Made Himself the People's Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Governor and is Bound to Receive an Overwhelming Majority in the August Primary.

FIRST: He has increased the revenue of the state in round numbers, in the last three years, TWO AND ONE-HALF MILLION DOLLARS—more than enough to pay the state out of debt. He is the only Auditor who has had the courage of his convictions; who has had the nerve to defend the state against the corporations, and in the face of all opposition he raised the assessments of the corporations from $48,000,000 to more than $132,000,000 annually. This required a courageous fight because corporations as a rule do not lay down, but with their array of lawyers they fight to the bitter end; hence the record of Henry M. Bosworth will go down in history as the greatest record ever made by any Auditor of the state.

SECOND: Henry M. Bosworth is a practical man; he is a practical farmer; he is a practical business man; he is in position to give to this state intelligent supervision and a business-like administration. THIRD: Henry M. Bosworth stands for right—he is not controlled by the Breweries, by the Whiskey Trust, by the Railroads, or other corporations. He stands alone. He is fighting for a principle, and will go down in defeat rather than sacrifice that principle.

FOURTH: Henry M. Bosworth has always stood for Democratic principles, and he will stand for them at this critical time for the party.

To those who believe in this kind of an administration, who believe in this kind of a man, Henry M. Bosworth appeals for support in the August primary.

Railroad Commissioner.

We are authorized to announce JOHN E. NEWMAN, of Bardstown, Nelson County, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner from the Second District; the primary election to be held Saturday August 7th, 1915.

William F. Klair, Fayette County, Candidate for Re-election as Railroad Commissioner, Second District of Ky. Subject to the action of the Democratic party in the August Primary.

We are authorized to announce Miss Jennie Higgins a candidate for County School Superintendent of Garrard County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 1917.

We are authorized to announce Judge Lewis L. Walker, of Garrard county, a candidate for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor, to be voted on at the primary election to be held on Saturday, August 7th 1915.

We are authorized to announce Joe S. Haselden, of this city, Republican candidate, for Representative at November election 1915.

We are authorized to announce Joe A. Burnside, candidate on Republican ticket, for Circuit Court Clerk, at November election 1915.

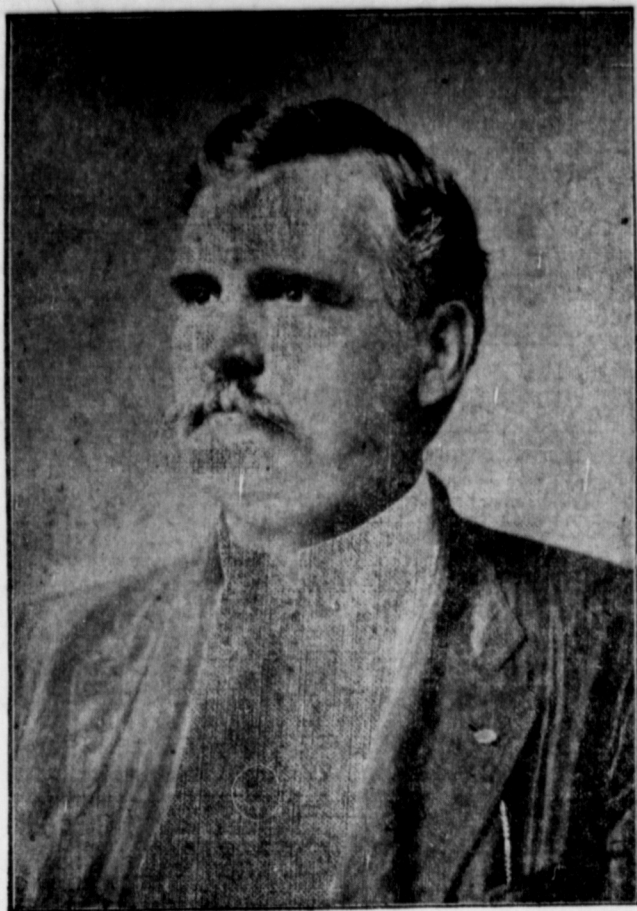

In the closing days of the campaign it is but natural that the supporters of the various candidates for Governor all are claiming that their candidate is a probable winner.

But it is very plain and evident to all those who have kept in touch with the political drift and sentiment that the race is now between Stanley and McChesney. McDermott and Bosworth will receive a small support in various parts of the State, but neither have sufficient support for democrats to take their candidacy seriously. It is up to the democrats of the State to say whether they want McChesney upon a state-wide prohibition platform or Stanley upon the County Unit platform.

Only a few years ago there were about one hundred prohibitionists in Garrard County who voted the prohibition ticket. Those voters all have now deserted the prohibition party and have concentrated their efforts to load on the democratic party this prohibition plank. There is no question that could be injected into politics that is more susceptible of destroying party organization than the state-wide prohibition.

There will be two classes of democrats voting in this primary; one, who would destroy the democratic party in order to promote state-wide prohibition, another, who would preserve the democratic organization and give state-wide prohibition to the people when the people are ready for that issue. We, therefore, think that the democrats of Garrard County and State of Kentucky ought to vote against Mr. McChesney and support Hon. A. O. Stanley.

There is an old and oft quoted maxim that a "drowning man will grasp at a straw". The reason that it is so familiar is because it is so true. Finding all other attempts to fail in bringing

JUDGE CHARLES A. HARDIN.

Judge Charles A. Hardin, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge, has served only about one half of the term, being elected to fill out the unexpired term of the late M. C. Saulley. Judge Hardin has not only demonstrated to the people that he is an able jurist but that he is a fair and impartial Judge. In fact it is admitted by his opponents, the few that are opposing him, that he has performed the important duties of Circuit Judge to the satisfaction of everybody. He is a democrat without stain or blemish. The overwhelming majority votes to their candidate, the McChesney men are trying to start a stampede to Mr. McDermott. Now everyone who has taken any interest in the campaign or has made inquiries about the result knows full well that the race is between Stanley and McChesney, with McDermott and Bosworth dividing the few remaining votes. Then the McChesney men start the claim through the Louisville Post, which claims to be supporting McDermott, that the bottom has fallen out of the Stanley boom and that the only chance that the anti-State wide men have is to nominate McDermott. Anyone with a sane mind can see through a scheme from the mere fact that it is the McChesney men who are making the fight for McDermott. So called democrats are trying to divide the issue instead of letting the leaders, who are making the race on separate platforms, fight it out at the polls. Did you notice the number of McChesney men sitting "way down in front" at the McDermott speaking?

Col. W. P. Walton, candidate for Secretary of State, is entirely worthy of the enthusiastic support he is receiving from the democrats of Garrard County. For many years he was editor of the Interior Journal and during all that time worked faithfully for the democratic party. He has never before asked any assistance or favor from the democrats of Kentucky, and if there is any man in the State who is entitled to a consideration from the organization it is W. P. Walton. He is not only a good democrat who has served his party well so long, but he is the best qualified man for Secretary of State, we think, of all the candidates who are seeking that nomination.

The President's reply to the German note is the masterful effort of a great Statesman. The answer leaves no loophole, no chance for an evasion of the question, but puts it squarely "up to Germany".

POLITICAL PROHIBITION OPPOSED BY THE VOTERS OF KENTUCKY.

Thomas B. Cromwell writing in the Cincinnati Enquirer has the following to say about the various Democratic Candidates for Governor:

Unless the writer's post-card canvass of the state is sadly off, former Congressman Augustus Owsley Stanley, of Henderson, will be the Democratic party's nominee for Governor of Kentucky at the primary election two weeks from to-day.

A compilation of figures from 67 of the 120 counties shows Stanley to have 60,400; Harry V. McChesney, of Frankfort, the state-wide prohibition candidate, 41,975; Lieutenant Governor Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville, 16,370, and State Auditor Henry M. Bosworth, of Lexington, 16,128; making a total of 134,865 (which indicates a heavy vote in all sections), and giving Stanley a plurality of 18,425 votes over McChesney.

The canvass is being conducted in the same way and the estimates are coming from the same sources that produced last summer in these columns the successful forecast of Senator J. C. W. Beckham's nomination. The canvass, however, is somewhat more extensive, in that a greater number of cards are of his party will rally to his support and endorse his official record on August 7th, we think. It would be unprecedented in the affairs of the democratic party to repudiate an official in the democratic primary who has only served one half of a term and who has filled and performed the duties of the office so satisfactorily. Judge Hardin's majority over his opponent in the district will not only be very large, but his friends claim that his majority in Garrard County will be the largest that any Democrat has received over an opponent in many years.

being used and a larger number of office holders in each of the counties are being asked to make figures.

The indications of a month ago that the bottom had fallen out of the McChesney basket, and that he is fast dropping earthward from a leaking balloon in spite of the frantic efforts of the Beckham organization to save him with the Anti-Saloon League aeroplane are being fully sustained by the figures. The crux of the situation is simply that the voters are not in favor of "political prohibition" if they are in favor of state-wide prohibition at all.

An estimator writes that "Morgan County is for state-wide prohibition, but not through McChesney." After saying that the miners will vote for Stanley, a Harlan County forecast says: "If the issues were put to the voters, this county would be for state-wide prohibition." An estimator who says that "when the question of state-wide prohibition submitted to the people Calaway County will be overwhelmingly for it," give McChesney only 100 more votes than Stanley. Floyd County, which comes in from two estimators as about evenly divided as to Stanley and McChesney is declared by one of the figure-makers to be "solid for state-wide prohibition." Scott County will give Stanley a majority over McChesney yet it is considered very close on the question of state wide prohibition. It is the same in Graves County and a number of others.

A Democrat who is filling a high office and who is one of the very best posted politicians in the Sixth Congressional District, this week gave the writer the following summary of his opinion as to how the eight counties of the Sixth will show up in the race for the gubernatorial nomination:

"In Kenton County Stanley will get not less than 4,000 votes. McDermott may get about half that may and Bosworth and McChesney divide what is left. In Campbell County, Stanley will get half the votes polled, with McDermott second and the few remaining divided between Bosworth and McChesney. In Boone County, Stanley will be first; Bosworth and McChesney close for second and McDermott a bad fourth. In Grant County Stanley will be a big first; McChesney and Bosworth close for second and McDermott a poor fourth. In Gallatin County, Stanley will have a small lead over McChesney, with Bosworth and McDermott third and fourth respectively. In Pendleton County Stanley will be first, with Bosworth and McChesney fighting for second place and McDermott fourth. It will be the same in Carroll County, though Stanley's lead will not be so large as in Pendleton. Trimble County presents a double situation, but a majority of the votes appear to be favoring Stanley, though McChesney may carry it. Bosworth and McDermott will divide a few votes."

Stanley put in the week with telling effect in Western Kentucky. At every point he was greeted with big crowds and tremendous ovations. Monday Stanley will speak at Owenton, where it is said he will have the largest gathering of his campaign in the Seventh Congressional District.

WILSON REMIES TO GERMANY.

We print herewith the full text of the American note to Germany:-

"The Secretary of State to Ambassador Gerard, Department of State, Washington, July 21, 1915.-You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the Minister for Foreign Affairs:

"The note of the Imperial German Government, dated the 8th of July, 1915, has received the careful consideration of the Government of the United States, and it regrets to be obliged to say that it has found it very unsatisfactory, because it fails to meet the real differences between the two Governments and indicates no way in which the accepted principles of law and humanity may be applied in the grave matter in controversy, but proposes, on the contrary, arrangements for a partial suspension of those principles which virtually set them aside.

"The Government of the United States notes with satisfaction that the Imperial German Government reservation the validity of the principles insisted on in the several communications which this Government has addressed to the Imperial German Government with regard to its announcement of a war zone and the use of submarines against merchantmen on the high seas—the principle that the high seas are free, that the character and cargo of a merchantman must first be ascertained before she can lawfully be seized or destroyed and that the lives of noncombatants may in no case be put in jeopardy unless the vessel resists or seeks to escape after being summoned to submit to examination; for a belligerent act of retaliation is per se an act beyond the law, and the defense of an act as retaliatory is an admission that it is illegal.

"The Government of the United States is, however, keenly disappointed to find that the Imperial German Government regards itself as in large degree exempt from the obligation to observe these principles, even where neutral vessels are concerned, by what it believes the policy and practice of the Government of Great Britain to be in the present war with regard to neutral commerce. The Imperial German Government will readily understand that the Government of the United States cannot discuss the policy of the Government of Great Britain with regard to neutral trade except with that Government itself, and that it must regard the conduct of other belligerent Governments as irrelevant to any discussion with the Imperial German Government of what this Government regards as grave and unjustifiable violations of the rights of American citizens by German naval commanders. Illegal and inhuman acts, however justifiable they may be thought to be against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the right to life itself. If a belligerent cannot retaliate against an enemy without injuring the lives of neutrals, as well as their property, humanity, as well as justice and a due regard for the dignity of neutral Powers, should dictate that the practice be discontinued.

If persisted in it would in such circumstances constitute an unpardonable offense against the sovereignty of the neutral nation affected. The Government of the United States is not unmindful of the extraordinary conditions created by this war or of the radical alterations of circumstance and method of attack produced by the use of instrumentalities of naval warfare which the nations of the world cannot have had in view when the existing rules of international law were formulated, and it is ready to make every reasonable allowance for these novel and unexpected aspects of war at sea; but it cannot consent to abate any essential or fundamental right of its people because of a mere alteration of circumstances. The rights of neutrals in time of war are based upon principle, not upon expediency, and the principles are immutable. It is the duty and obligation of belligerents to find a way to adapt the new circumstances to them.

"The events of the past two months have clearly indicated that it is possible and practicable to conduct such submarine operations as have characterized the activity of the Imperial German navy within the so-called war zone in substantial accord with the accepted practices of regulated warfare. The whole world has looked with interest and increasing satisfaction at the demonstration of that possibility by German naval commanders. It is manifestly possible, therefore, to lift the whole practice of submarine attack above the criticism which it has aroused and remove the chief causes of offense.

"In view of the admission of illegality made by the Imperial German Government when it pleaded the right of retaliation in defense of its acts, and in view of the manifest possibility of conforming to the established rules of naval warfare the Government of the United States cannot believe that the Imperial Government will longer refrain from disavowing the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania or from offering reparation for the American lives lost, so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an illegal act.

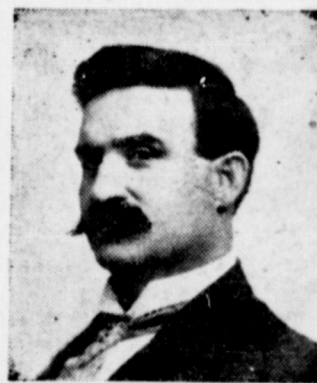

"The Government of the United States, while not indifferent to the friendly spirit in which it is made, cannot accept the suggestion of the Imperial German Government that certain vessels be designated and agreed upon which shall be free on the seas now illegally proscribed. The suggestion would, by implication, subject other vessels to illegal attack and would be a curtailment and therefore an abandonment of the principles for which this Government contends and which in times of calmer councils every nation would concede as of course.

"The Government of the United States and the Imperial German Government are contending for the same great object; have long stood together in urging the very principles upon which the Government of the United States now so solemnly insists. They are both contending for the freedom of the seas. The Government of the United States will continue to contend for that freedom, from whatever quarter violated, without compromise and at any cost. It invites the practical co-operation of the Imperial German Government at this time when co-operation may accomplish most and this great common object be most strikingly and effectively achieved.

"The Imperial German Government expresses the hope that this object may be in some measure accomplished even before the present war ends. It can be. The Government of the United States not only feels obligated to insist upon it, by whomsoever violated or ignored, in the protection of its own citizens, but is also deeply interested in seeing it made practicable between the belligerents themselves, and holds itself ready at any time to act as the common friend who may be privileged to suggest a way.

"In the meantime the very value which this Government sets upon the long and unbroken friendship between the people of the Government of the United States and the people of the Government of the German Nation impels it to press very solemnly upon the Imperial German Government the necessity for a scrupulous observance of neutral rights in this critical matter. Friendship itself prompts it to say to the Imperial Government that repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be regarded by the Government of the United States, when they affect American citizens, as deliberately unfriendly.

THE MAN WHO TOOK KENTUCKY SCHOOLS OUT OF POLITICS.

Mr. Eubank is Editor of the Southern School Journal, the official organ of the Department of Education and of the Kentucky Educational Association. His editorial utterances have had great influence in shaping public opinion in school affairs, and the measures which he has proposed and which have been put upon the statute books, have proved most beneficial to the school system. Notably, his County School Board law, now in force, makes possible a non-partisan Board for the control of the school in each county. It is possible, because of this law, for each county to provide as efficient elementary and high schools for its rural children as are found in the large cities. Mr. Eubank is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. The school people are supporting him strongly in this race, for they recognize him as one who always works for the greater welfare of the children.

SMOOTH RASCAL

Mortgaged Winn's Farm For Him and Got $3,500.

The name of W. P. Winn, of Winchester, figures in a peculiar fraud that is alleged was perpetrated on a bank in Butler county, Missouri, not long ago. Mr. Winn a few days ago received a request that his photograph be sent to the authorities there for the purpose of straightening out the matter. Twenty years ago Mr. Winn purchased a farm of 160 acres in Cass county, Missouri, a few miles from Pleasant Hill. Since that time the farm has grown in value. A few days ago Mr. Winn received a letter from the Butler county bank requesting him to forward the interest on a loan of $3,500, which the bank, much to his surprise, informed him he had borrowed. At the same time he received a letter from the County Clerk notifying him that his mortgage on the place had been duly filed. Having borrowed no money on the land, Mr. Winn believed a mistake had been made and immediately wrote to the clerk, giving a description of his land. He then learned that his land had been mortgaged by a person claiming to be Mr. Winn, but giving his residence as Lexington, Ky. The alleged fraud was committed about a year ago, and Mr. Winn has just learned of it. He intends to help the bank in finding the rascal.

McLEAN.

After an illness of only a few days, Mr. R. O. McLean, of Nashville, died at the home of his brother, Mr. Harvey McLean, at Lewistown Tenn., on Saturday July 17th.

Mr. McLean is well remembered in this county, having married Miss Martha Belle Burnside, whose brother Mr. J. G. Burnside lives near Point Leavelle.

A Nashville paper gives the following account of his death:

"The remains of R. O. McLean, who died Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of his brother, Harvey McLean, near Lewisburg Tenn., arrived in Nashville Sunday morning and were conveyed to his home, 1924 Hayes St., where services were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. At the time of his death he was interested in a local coal concern. He was born in Marshall county, Tenn. He left Nashville about two weeks ago to visit his brother at his farm near Lewisburg, where he spent his boyhood days. Soon after his arrival at his brother's he was seized with a serious illness, which resulted in his death Saturday. He was a member of the Frank Cheatham Bivouac, having served in the civil war as the command of Col. Baxter Smith. COOPER TELLS WHY TANLAC IS POPULAR

Because the Preparation Contains Real Merit, He Says in Statement.

"If I have been successful with Tanlac," says L. T. Cooper, "it is because the preparation contains real merit."

Tanlac is the result of many years of arduous study by my principal chemist. In fact, the two of us have carefully watched its development from the beginning of the experimental tests to its present high state of efficiency.

"In cases of catarrhal affections of the mucus membranes, stomach, liver, and kidney complaints, I believe there is nothing so far discovered that will equal the action of Tanlac."

"Ever and anon someone suggests something that may tend to better our conditions, whether it may pertain to our health, our business, or our sociological state. It has, therefore, been my pleasure this time to offer to the world Tanlac."

"When I came to Louisville, I stated that the success of the medicine would be as great in this city as it was elsewhere. I offered Tanlac upon its merits, knowing full well that it would prove satisfactory if properly tested."

"The success the preparation has achieved here in Louisville is ample evidence that my confidence in Tanlac is well placed."

"A large percentage of your best people are now using the preparation, and they are daily testifying to its excellent worth as a medicine of exceptional value in instances of catarrh, stomach, liver, and kidney derangements, nervous debility, and in cases where a superior tonic is required."

"It is true that the demand for Tanlac has been large, but no larger than I had expected. Louisville is only awakening to an appreciation of the full value of such a preparation. Tanlac's success in your city will be even greater."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is being introduced in Lancaster by R. E. McRoberts, and Becker, Ballard & Scott, Bryantsville.

KENTUCKY PRACTICALLY FREED FROM QUARANTINE.

The only part of Kentucky now quarantined for foot and mouth disease is the area covered by the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville. These yards are limited to handling animals for slaughter.

The order effective July 26, which makes this change in Kentucky and frees Jefferson County, also removes the last quarantines in the States of Connecticut, Kansas and West Virginia releases four counties in Pennsylvania, five in New York and one in Illinois, and confines the quarantines in Maryland and Virginia to the same restrictions on the yards at Baltimore and Richmond which have been imposed upon those at Louisville. With these changes the quarantined area in the United States is practically confined to a few stock yards and three counties in New York, two in Pennsylvania, four in Illinois, and one in New Jersey. Even in these the restrictions are much less stringent than formerly.

HUNDREDS DROWN WHEN BOAT TURNS OVER AT CHICAGO.

A thousand persons are believed to have been drowned by the capsizing of the steamship Eastland at her dock in the Chicago river shortly before 8 o'clock Saturday morning.

The steamer had been chartered for the day by the Western Electric Company employees, who had planned an excursion to Michigan City Ind.

Passengers were crowded on the ship shortly before 8 o'clock, the hour it was to leave when the boat slowly listed toward the middle of the river. It is said that there were 2,500 people on the steamer.

When the boat started to tip the officers shouted warnings, but it was too late. The heavily loaded steamer continued to roll until the hawsers which held it to the dock snapped.

A moment later, amid the screams of passengers, the steamer turned over on its side and floated out into the middle of the river.

Apparently scores of women and children in the cabins were drowned without being given a chance to escape. Hundreds of other passengers were able to climb on the sides of the boat, which is above water, and were later taken off by rescuers.

Life preservers were cast into the river from the steamship Theodore Roosevelt, which was docked across the river, and scores of the Eastland's passengers clung to them until picked up by boats.

City fireboats, police launches and lifeboats from nearby streamers in the river rushed to the rescue. A hole was cut through the side of the lower deck by lifesavers and bodies of victims were soon taken out.

EASY WAY TO MAKE HAIR ATTRACTIVE.

Ladies who find trouble in properly or attractively arranging and dressing their hair should try using a little Parisian Sage twice daily for a while and note the remarkable improvement. Parisian Sage, which can be obtained from R. E. McRoberts or any drug counter, makes the hair soft, lustrous, fluffy and wavy, takes out the dull, lifeless appearance, dissolves the dandruff and stimulates the hair roots into healthy normal action. Instead of merely sprinkling the hair, it should be rubbed right into the scalp with the finger tips. Parisian Sage is a delightful treatment for both hair and scalp, cannot possibly injure the hair and is very inexpensive.

A TREACHEROUS TROUBLE

Lancaster People Are Shown The Way Out.

Kidney diseases are very dangerous. They come on silently, gain ground rapidly, and cause thousands of deaths that could have been prevented by proper treatment in the beginning. Nature gives early warnings of kidney disease—backache, twinges of pain when stopping or lifting, headaches and urinary disorders. If these symptoms are unheeded, there is grave danger of dropsy or possible Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills have earned a reputation for their effectiveness in kidney troubles, and are known and recommended the world over. Lancaster readers should find convincing proof in the following statement. It's from a citizen of this locality.

R. C. Faulkner, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 134, Paint Lick, Ky., says: "I suffered for some time from a weak back. A dull pain through my loins gave me much trouble. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They soon removed the aches and pains."

A Farewell to the Mountains

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

Jerry Whitcomb, a young American, had a hobby—mountain climbing. On several successive summers he went to some one of the principal mountain regions of the world and scaled a peak. But his favorite location was Switzerland. Indeed, that is the favorite mountain country of most persons. Whether or not it is finer than the others is a question, but there is one thing about it that gives it superior attraction. It is in the heart of Europe and in the line of tourists.

Whitcomb had a favorite guide who lived at Scheidegg, a point from which climbers have been long used to start to ascend the Jungfrau. This was before a railroad was projected to carry tourists to the top of the mountain, and Schmitt, the guide referred to, had a chalet not far above Scheidegg.

One day when Whitcomb had passed the crest of middle age he appeared at Scheidegg and found his old guide smoking his pipe in front of his chalet.

"My old friend," said the American, "I have come for a last climb. I will soon be old and not able to make these ascents. I wish you to pilot me once more."

"Ah, herr," replied the guide, "don't talk that way. I am several years older than you, and yet I must go on climbing, else I and my family will starve."

There was a sadness in this reply that made Whitcomb sorry for what he had said. "Ah, well, Schmitt, you have been used to climbing all your life. You will always be at home in the mountains."

Schmitt's little daughter was playing near and at the moment she called out:

"Papa, who is that woman over there?"

"What woman, my child?"

"The woman on the glacier,"

Schmitt turned to Whitcomb and asked him if he could see a woman on the glacier, his own eyes being not so good as they had been. Whitcomb peered in the direction of the glacier, but said he could see no woman.

Schmitt turned pale.

"Something troubles you," said Whitcomb.

"It is the spirit of the mountains. She appears only to children and never even to a child except she is going to claim a victim."

The fact that the two men were to climb the Jungfrau made this statement a matter of concern to them. Whitcomb could not bring himself to believe that the child saw what she claimed to have seen. Some one of the cracks in the ice or a rock must have appeared like a woman's figure. He said as much to Schmitt, but the latter shook his head.

"Many children," said the guide, "have seen the Jungfrau and never except that one or more persons have been killed on the mountain within a short time after the appearance of the specter."

They set out about 3 o'clock in the morning intending to make the climb during a single day. Whitcomb had forgotten the vision of Schmitt's little daughter and was very cheery. His guide was quite the reverse, seemingly being much cast down. On the way they picked up another guide, making a party of three, and when they came to the dangerous part of their climb they joined their bodies by a rope. Schmitt in the lead, Whitcomb in the center, the other guide, whom Schmitt addressed as Hans, in the rear.

They climbed till noon before reaching the summit; then, looking out on the expansive field of snow peaks, Whitcomb gave way to rhapsody.

"Goodby, old friends," he said. "It's many a day's companionship we've had, but now we must part. You who have existed for ages in your present form doubtless will exist for ages to come. Your snow covered rocks will endure for millions of years after my puny body has mingled with the dust. My friends, farewell!"

"Ach! Herr, do not talk that way. There is something prophetic in what you say."

"I don't mean," replied Whitcomb, "that I am going to leave this world immediately. I expect to live to be an old man. But I'll do no more climbing."

"No, herr, you'll do no more climbing," replied Schmitt, with a solemnity that passed through the other like a chill mountain breeze.

They spent an hour on the summit, then turned to descend. They had not gone far before one of those sudden snow squalls that come on so frequently out of a fine day enveloped them. Schmitt was in the advance and halted, as though he had lost his bearings. Then he moved on, but staggered. Presently the snow gave way beneath him, and he went down, dragging Whitcomb with him. Hans threw himself in the opposite direction. The rope snapped. Schmitt and Whitcomb slid out of sight with the snow. Hans fell into a snowbank not a dozen feet below.

The storm soon passed, and Hans, making his way back to Scheidegg, reported the accident and the disappearance of his companions. A searching party went out to look for the bodies and found that the two men had gone over a precipice a thousand feet deep. Descending, the searchers saw that they had doubtless fallen into a crevasse. The American sleeps among the mountains he loved and to which he had bidden farewell.

CULTIVATING ALFALFA.

A Difference of Opinion Among Growers Regarding the Practice.

There is a difference of opinion among alfalfa growers in regard to the practice of cultivating the surface of alfalfa fields after the removal of a crop, says the Iowa Homestead. In the dry regions the effect of surface cultivation is to strengthen the growth and thicken the crop, but there is some question as to the advisability of doing any cultivating whatever in the corn belt. The reason for this is that farming implements tend, in many cases, to split the alfalfa crowns in such a way as to cause the root to rot, and because of this many successful alfalfa growers do little work on the surface after getting a stand.

This matter is briefly discussed in the following extract sent out by the Farm Improvement association of Winnebago county, Ill.:

"The best time to cultivate alfalfa is in the spring after danger of freezing, before the plants have made too much start. The next best time to cultivate is in the fall after the last cutting. Alfalfa may be cultivated immediately after the first or second cutting, but this is not very practical on account of lack of time and labor and less desirable than spring or fall cultivation, because summer cultivation may check the growth of the alfalfa and is likely to leave the ground too loose and perhaps too cloddy and dusty. The alfalfa shovel cultivator or alfalfa spring tooth harrow is the best implement to use, but the disk harrow will give good results, especially in the spring, if carefully used.

"Set the disks rather straight and weight the harrow if necessary, making it cut two or three inches deep. Double disk or cross disk, if necessary, and finish with the common straight tooth harrow in order to pull out the weeds and roots and to thoroughly pulverize the soil and level it.

"It is not advisable to disk alfalfa until the third year after seeding. The common harrow and perhaps the spring tooth harrow or alfalfa cultivator may be used the second year."

It is questionable if so strong an endorsement of the cultivation system can be secured from the majority of alfalfa growers of the corn belt. In the case of a dry season the creation of a much by using a spring tooth harrow or shovel cultivator may greatly benefit the alfalfa crop, but in the case of a wet year the grower of alfalfa had better go rather slowly in adopting the practice of stirring the surface of alfalfa fields. It is true that in some instances all the surface cultivation will tend to keep blue grass in check, but one must choose between the desirability of injuring the blue grass and the injurious result that is apt to be produced on the alfalfa crop itself by surface cutting and surface stirring.

WHO'S GOING TO PAY?

Kentucky's State Debt is Now $2,355,167.00—
State-Wide Prohibition Will Deprive the State of $700,000.00 a Year—Where Will It Come
From?—Political Office Seekers Care Not
For State Debts—They Are After the Jobs

A little more than a year ago the County Unit Law was enacted, as the definite policy of both the Democratic and Republican parties in Kentucky. Under its provisions 106 counties now have prohibition as fully as they could have under State-wide prohibition. As a political issue the liquor question was thought to be settled. As a moral issue it was settled in accordance with the wishes of temperance people all over the State. Each county can vote out saloons when the people living in them want to do so.

Some politicians, desiring an exciting issue to add them in obtaining control of the business and political affairs of the State, resurrected the liquor question, and proclaimed State-wide prohibition the paramount issue. Indirectly, therefore, the question will be voted upon at the primary, to be held August 7, because one of the candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor has made that issue a fundamental part of his political program.

It is well that the voters know and consider some of the facts that vitally affect the welfare of the state, and of themselves as citizens and taxpayers, before voting to tear up our economic system. Many ridiculous and false statements have been made by political prohibitionists, calculated and intended to deceive the voters. But here are facts that no truthful man can deny:

CONDITION OF THE STATE TREASURY

On June 30th, 1912, one month ago, the condition of the State finances was as follows:

Outstanding interest-bearing warrants $3,209,589.00
Cash in treasury 854,422.00
Leaving a deficit, or debt, bearing interest 2,355,167.00

The interest on this debt at 5 per cent is $117,758 a year. The debt is growing larger all the time. Both principal and interest are becoming an increasing burden upon the taxpayers.

REVENUES

The entire amount of revenue paid annually by all forms of the liquor business to the State treasury, to the counties and to the cities and towns of Kentucky, is as follows:

State revenue $700,000.00
Revenue to the city of Louisville 621,000.00
Revenue to cities and towns other than Louisville 414,000.00
Revenue to counties from application of the county tax 200,000.00
$1,945,000.00

While only $700,000.00 of the nearly $2,000,000 derived from the liquor business is paid directly to the State treasury, yet the $1,245,000 paid to the cities, towns and counties of the State are of great financial assistance to them, and in this way undoubtedly promotes the prosperity of the State. To say nothing of the revenues to cities and counties, if the $700,000 paid by the liquor business direct to the State treasury be thrown away, as will be the case if State-wide prohibition is adopted, the State deficit, or debt, must at once be increased by that amount, making it over $3,000,000 the first year, and this state debt must continue to increase at the rate of more than a million dollars a year until other property in the State is taxed sufficiently to pay off the huge accumulated debt and also provide the additional revenue necessary to make up the constant loss and bear at the same time the current running expenses of the State government. Nothing is plainer than that.

No kind of sophistry or soft-soapistry can fool intelligent people in regard to these facts.

FALSE STATEMENTS ANSWERED.

It has been claimed by the political state-wide prohibitionists that prohibition will save the people money by reducing crime, pauperism, and insanity, thereby reducing the cost of criminal prosecutions. Facts and authentic statistics utterly disprove these statements. They point to Kansas as a shining example of prohibition. The following facts, taken from government statistics, prove conclusively that Kansas is not the state-wide paradise it is claimed to be:

Number of PRISONERS per 100,000 population: Kansas 90.94
Nine license states (average) 73.54

Number of PAUPERS per 100,000 population: Kansas 43.49
Nine license states (average) 25.42

(These nine states are all agricultural states similar to Kansas.)

Number of INSANE PERSONS per 100,000 population: Kansas 172.3
Seventeen license states (average) 124.3

Number of DIVORCES per 100,000 population: Kansas 286
Thirty-one license states (average) 183.5

Number of DIVORCES granted to wives for cruelty per 100,000 population: Kansas 24.3
Twenty-four license states (average) 14.1

The relative number of savings accounts is often quoted as a basis of comparison as to the prosperity of different states. The report of the Comptroller of the Currency shows that on June 4, 1912, Kansas had 1,148 savings depositories for each 100,000 population. Twenty-seven license states had an average of 9,350 savings depositories per 100,000 population. These twenty-seven states are agricultural states similar to Kansas. So Kansas shows no better than other states in that respect.

DEATH RATE AND DRUNKENNESS.

A few comparative figures from other states may be interesting. North Carolina and Maine, "dry" states, show respectively a death rate of 17.3 and 15.3 per 100,000 population. Nineteen license states show a smaller death rate, the average being 12.9 per cent. Memphis, "dry," afforded in 1912 the distressing spectacle of 64 murders per 100,000 population; Milwaukee, "wet," had only 4. Atlanta, "dry," in 1912, had 39 murders per 100,000 population; Philadelphia, "wet," had 2; Chicago, "wet," 1; Topeka, "dry," 1; Cincinnati, "wet," 1 for every 267 residents. The prohibition state of Maine is constantly referred to as a shining example of the results of state-wide prohibition. In Portland, their chief city, the arrests for drunkenness increased from 1,567, in 1901, to 4,533, in 1912. During that time the population increased 16 per cent, while the arrests for drunkenness increased 300 per cent. So far as Portland is concerned prohibition does not seem to prohibit.

OUR NEIGHBOR STATES.

Right at our doors, Tennessee, with a $12,000,000 state debt, and state-wide prohibition, has had an increase of costs of criminal prosecutions in six years of more than double what it was under the local option license system. The financial condition of Nashville, the capital city, is such that its bankrupt affairs may have to be placed in the hands of a receiver.

It is known to all men that West Virginia, which has had state-wide prohibition for only one year, is practically paralyzed financially for want of money to pay the current expenses of the state. During the same time the number of prisoners in the Charleston jail, in the capital city of the state, increased from 39, on May 1, 1911, to 92, on May 1, 1912. This, too, disproves that state prohibition saves costs of criminal prosecutions.

BESIDES THE ABOVE FACTS, THOUGHTFUL MEN MUST NOT FORGET THAT STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION WILL WIPE OUT $6,500,000 PAID ANNUALLY BY KENTUCKY DISTILLERS FOR GRAIN; THAT $2,200,000 PAID ANNUALLY AS WAGES WILL CEASE TO BE PAID; THAT $2,405,000 NOW PAID ANNUALLY FOR COAL AND BARRELS WILL NO LONGER BE EXPENDED; THAT THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY PAID IN INTEREST BY DISTILLERS AND BREWERS TO KENTUCKY BANKS WOULD NO LONGER BE ADDED TO THEIR EARNINGS, AND THAT $60,000,000 BROUGHT INTO KENTUCKY ANNUALLY FROM OUTSIDE THE STATE WILL CEASE TO FLOW INTO OUR BUSINESS CHANNELS.

Ninety-five per cent of the product of Kentucky distillers is shipped out of the state, bringing into our business life a constant stream of foreign money.

Practical men, knowing that nothing can be gained for temperance, morality, or economy, are determined to stand by the present system of local, county self government, and not destroy or drive from the state the countless millions of tax-paying capital and property that now constitutes one of the state's chief industrial assets. To encourage a policy of confiscation and destruction of state revenues, by nominating candidates pledged to such a program, means to the taxpayer nothing more nor less than the following necessary shifting of the tax burden:

- (1) IF FARM LANDS PAY IT, THE TAX ON FARMS MUST BE INCREASED 50 PER CENT.
- (2) IF LIVE STOCK HAS TO PAY IT, THAT CLASS OF PROPERTY MUST BE TAXED THREE TIMES WHAT IT IS AT PRESENT.
- (3) IF THE MERCHANTS OF THE STATE WERE TO PAY IT THEIR TAXES MUST BE FIVE TIMES WHAT THEY ARE NOW.
- (4) IF RAILROADS ARE TO PAY IT, THEIR ASSESSMENT MUST BE DOUBLED.
- (5) IF MINING PROPERTY IS REQUIRED TO PAY IT, THEIR ASSESSMENT MUST BE MORE THAN 100 TIMES WHAT IT IS NOW.

No one class of property owners will have to bear all this burden of taxation, but it must fall upon each more or less severely. Will it pay to listen to the demand of office seeking politicians, who themselves pay little or none of the taxes, but who simply want fat offices, and are using the state-wide prohibition issue as a false campaign cry to get votes for their own advancement and personal profit?—Adv.

TOM RHEA HAS PROVEN FRIEND TO TAXPAYERS OF KENTUCKY

Played Important Part In Forcing Large Corporations to Pay Their Just Proportion of Taxes and is Best Qualified In Every Way for Auditorship

It is natural and proper that the Democrats of Kentucky should take a deep interest in the selection of their candidate for Governor on August 7, but they should not allow that race to overshadow all others and cause them to neglect or overlook other important races. Especially should they give their attention to the Auditor's race, for that position ranks in importance next to that of Governor.

The Auditor is the head of the fiscal affairs of the state and the head of the important Board of Franchise Assessments which fixes the franchise valuations upon which all corporations doing business in the state must pay taxes. The work of that board is of far-reaching importance to the people, and, above all others, the Auditor, who presides as chairman of the board, should be a man well equipped and trained for its difficult duties, and one who is incorruptible and fearless, ready to compel the corporations to pay their just part of the revenues of the state without being unjust to any corporation or person.

Such a man is Thos. S. Rhea, who is asking the nomination from the Democratic party, and there is not a man in Kentucky better qualified for the position or more deserving of the support of the Democrats. As State Treasurer for nearly four years in the present administration, he has been a member of that board and a leading spirit in its splendid work. With his intelligent and active assistance, the franchise assessments upon corporations have been so increased that the state is now receiving several hundred thousand dollars more in revenue every year than ever before. The board has increased the franchise valuation upon all corporations from $48,000,000 to $132,000,000. Four of the largest railroad companies, whose assessments were raised, have carried it into the courts; and, if the courts uphold the action of the board, the increased revenue, together with the large increase from other corporations, which have not contested the raises, will be a great help to the taxpayers, and in a reasonable time add materially in paying off the indebtedness of the state.

In the four years of this administration, the increase of revenues from the increased assessments of those corporations, which have not made contests, will alone amount to a sum to the state far in excess of a million dollars; and the increase of revenues from the same sources to the counties, cities, towns and school districts will amount to about two million dollars for the same period. Should the courts uphold the action of the board in regard to the four railroad companies, it would add about one million dollars more to the state, and about two million dollars more to the counties, cities, towns and school districts in the same four years.

No man has had more to do with this great work than Tom Rhea, and no man now seeking a nomination for a state office is better prepared than he to render useful and valuable service to the state and to the people in the next four years. No other man seeking this office has ever had the slightest experience with its duties. Some of his enemies, at the beginning of this campaign, undertook to criticize him and his record as an official, but they had to quickly abandon such attacks, because the published facts clearly disproved their misrepresentations. In the next administration, Mr. Rhea would prove himself a tower of strength to the state in the conduct of its revenues and fiscal affairs.

As a Democrat and party worker, there is not a blot upon his record. Four years ago, when he was on the state ticket as the nominee for Treasurer, he added great strength to the ticket, as was shown by the increased majority of 2,500 given in his judicial district alone. Last fall, in the Senatorial and Congressional races, he was chosen by the Democratic State Committee as Campaign Chairman, and under his intelligent and successful management and organization, the Democratic majority in the state was increased to 32,000.

Tom Rhea has always been true to the party and its nominees. He has never bolted nor quailed when things did not go his way in primaries or conventions. The Democratic party in the campaign this fall needs him upon the ticket. No other man can give it greater strength or do more to insure its success in the November election. He is a man of pleasing and attractive personality, free from malice, kind, considerate to all, a temperate and a temperance man, never having touched a drink of alcoholic liquor in all his life, and, all in all, he is a man worthy in the highest degree of the confidence and support of all good citizens.

The Democrats of the state could not find a better man to nominate for any office than Tom Rhea, and, if the signs indicate anything, he will be the nominee for Auditor by a handsome majority in the primary on August 7.

DON'T BE LONGER FOOLED. WHAT IS TRUE DEMOCRACY?

Meet The Issue Squarely.
The Question Is Wet Or Dry.

The issue is not changed, neither will the good democrats of Kentucky allow it to be confused or obscured. Some of the candidates are trying to make it appear that statewide prohibition is a device and will destroy the party. This is not true. The friends of this great moral issue simply ask that the people be allowed to exercise their privileges at the ballot box, and vote their convictions. Why not? Is this not democratic? Two of the candidates would decide for you—asking that you accept their selfish views. Mr. McChesney is the only man that proposes real democratic doctrine as the basis for settling this, as well as all other great questions.

Mr. Stanley is the "wet" candidate, Mr. McDermott is "midway" candidate and thus the way is open and clear for the man that stands four square on the one great question before us. The duty of every man that has the moral standards of our grand old Commonwealth at heart is to take his conscience into this campaign and work for the final victory which can only mean state wide prohibition. It is a fight for home and a sober citizenship.

At this very time we are suffering from the curse of "Election Whiskey" that is plentiful and freely used. This will continue until we rid our state of this awful curse. The opportunity has come and Mr. McChesney is the Moses to lead us out of wilderness. Voters stop letting politicians dictate and mislead by their selfish ambitions. It is a winning issue and every day grows fuller of hope. Do your duty and be happy.

The issue in this campaign will not be confused or obscured. Mr. McChesney is bearing the message that a majority of the democrats are hearing with delight. Statewide prohibition is the only great question about which the voters have a conscientious concern, seeing the liquor people are determined to deprive the majority of their democratic rights, of submission to the voters of the State of Kentucky. Do not forget that Mr. McChesney is the only candidate that is willing for the people to decide what they want. Mr. Stanley represents the "wet" extreme and Mr. McDermott, and he the "middle of the road." Every thoughtful man well knows there is no middle ground on this moral question. All reforms must either go forward or backward, there is no middle ground.

The County Unit has not been a failure, but a success, as many counties will attest which have gone dry under it. Now the time has come to go forward, and keep in step with the progress being made by our sister states on this great moral and economic issue. The principles of Statewide prohibition cannot be compromised by those who are seeking to rise by minimizing, mistaking the real issue. Victory is in sight. Stand for the thing you know to be right. The liquor dealers believe we will win. The people of Kentucky are aroused as never before. They are not going to be sidetracked by big head lines in "wet" papers or selfish claims of candidates.

When this question is settled right, then we can have good schools, good roads, and all other good institutions that the grand old state so much needs. Statewide democrats are for all these things and are willing to spend and be spent for them.

Where Do You Stand?

The greatest public moral issue now before the people of Kentucky is that of State-wide prohibition. The duty of all temperance people is to try to elect a legislature and a governor who are in favor of submitting a constitutional amendment on State-wide prohibition to the voters of the State.

The liquor interests are not willing that the voters of the State shall say whether or not liquor shall be manufactured and sold in Kentucky. The platform convention of the Republican Party which was held in Lexington recently declared itself against the proposition to have the Legislature submit a constitutional prohibition amendment to the voters of the State, although the same convention declared in favor of having the Legislature submit an amendment on woman suffrage to the voters of the State. How will the leader of the State ticket of that party defend such inconsistency, and liquor domination?

On the other side, two candidates for the Democratic party nomination declare themselves as being opposed to the submission of the questions of prohibition to the voters, while one other candidate says he will wait till his party convention has spoken on the subject before he speaks, and the fourth candidate says boldly that he favors the submission of this question to the voters of the State, and let them settle it for good and all.

We think it preposterous that men will ask for support for office in a free government, a "government of the people, for the people, and by the people," and at the same time want to deny the people the right to vote on a question of such general importance as that of prohibition.

It is not a question of men now, nor of political parties, but a question of who will stand for the moral rights of the people. We are for the man or the men for office who respect popular government enough to let the people have a voice in it.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

In these times of reform and reform movements, many of our people, of the greatest and wisest, are seeking to elevate human character, conserve the public health, attain a higher standard of public morals, and to provide more adequate protection for those who, now the sons and daughters, but soon to be the men and women of the country and the responsible custodians of its welfare and architects of its future prestige and glory, and who, by their success or failure, must contribute to its perpetuity or its downfall, it is dangerous to ignore any who, however handicapped, have in any degree contributed to the progress already made.

In all movements inaugurated in this state for the improvement of educational facilities, for battling against disease, for the betterment of family life, for better public domination, for purity of private and public life, for the restriction or elimination of the evil, for securing of pure food, pure water and pure air for congested districts in our great cities, women have always borne the brunt of the battle and have by their ungrudging and persistent devotion to the welfare of the whole people, accomplished much, and if given the same power to enforce their demands as is possessed by men, will in the near future bring even greater things to pass.

Those states in which women have been given the power of the ballot, today are noted for their advanced legislation along the lines suggested as well as along other lines. As to the results of equal suffrage, let me quote the following:

Gov. Kendrick, of Wyoming, where the women have been voting for forty-five years, says: "Woman suffrage has elevated the people."

Gov. Haines, of Idaho: "The influence of woman has always been in favor of clean politics."

Gov. Wythecomb, of Oregon: "Equal suffrage is proving a boon to this state."

Gov. Johnson, of California: "Equal suffrage in California has fully justified itself."

Chief Justice Potter, of Wyoming: "Woman suffrage has purified politics in Wyoming to an extent that could not have happened with male suffrage only."

Not one word of the evils so freely predicted as sure to follow the granting of the ballot to women. Is it not safe, in the light of this testimony to assume that these predictions have not been realized?

The principle has been endorsed by many of the leading men of the country. Abraham Lincoln said:
